I find shelter
in your smile - -
from the tension of chalk and pen . . .
a refuge of warmth
in the midst of cold shoulders
and frozen frowns . . .
a welcome escape
beyond the frigidity
of school-room pride.

Love shared is loneliness denied.
TOGETHER - - -
we can make it.
Even when we are apart
I am not without you - - - I am inside you,
locked away
forever.

Alone - - - I am blind
to my own identity.
I must be taught- - - to explore
to discover
to create
to mold
a dream into a reality But I need the hands of experience to guide my groggy vision and interpret my sluggish contemplation.

Wandering amid a stream of silent thought, lost in a pocket of seclusion - - a private game of hide and seek with time

Though I sometimes
walk alone,
I have no fear.
For my dreams
do not desert me they comfort
my carelessness
and sustain my pride- - -
For even in my aloneness,
I am strong.
On my own beliefs
I depend
I would rather believe in myself
than be swallowed in the conformed admiration of the insecure multitudes My embittered spirit longs to return to its sheltered ledge- - - Watching the folly
of other human souls, I'm somehow superior in my very seclusion.
It's easy to laugh at other's mistakes and ridicule their childish trust,
but sometimes it becomes lonely
to be different is to know the complete segregation of a single soul- - - but also the extension of its freedom.

Dependency is something you never outgrow . . .
you thought you did when you took your first step, or stopped
sucking your thumb, or put your favorite blanket
up in the attic, (stashed away with your first teddy bear- - - among the moth balls) but someone was always there when you needed them - - - and even when you didn't.

It catches you unaware --- it comes in split-second spurts
a hand to cling to,
a word to inspire --- whether you believe or not

Day-to-day faces in a timeless situation - - - building upon each other to form a tangled network of combined ideas and mass confusion Each a part of a whole, like so many pieces
in a jig-saw puzzle,
or rows of tin soldiers.
Yet, if a piece is missing, the puzzle will never be complete,
and if one soldier
turns to run,
the others may follow

Still, we seek a voice we cannot hear,
a face we cannot see,
to protect us
from our immortal
insecurity - - -
to comfort us in the face of our defeat.

ESCAPE—
the magic word that inspires the search for a way out,
a way to forget . . .
A search for warmth,
ending in artificial fulfillment—

A morning coffee break to drown out voices of nagging students and visions of apathetic faces
a quick cigarette
behind the stadium
to blow off steam
and release tensions
a couple of bottles of beer to shake off inhibitions an ultimate "trip" - - - out of sight
out of mind
out of touch with reality
but "hooked" on insecurity.

 always fall off —
 the last half time show — script: EUCLID
 Orchestra — another sound in the music menagerie.
 Tingling notes of perfection combined in gentle harmony —
 mastering musical skills.

Football

This is Panther Country!
Spirited cheers
yielding to anticipation, a tense silence—kickoff!

Calculated plays . . .
we've got it TOGETHER

Football.

More than a game,
a "lifetime" of essential practice, mud . . .

fatigue . . .
satisfaction.

Victory?

Facing the opponent squarely . . . strength against strength.

Combining ability, concentration, teamwork.

PRIDE

Compromise—ties.

An occasional victory (Defense!)

We are Euc-lid!

Homecoming

A crackling bonfire extends a vibrant
 WELCOME!
 Excitement mounts . . .
 myriad spatters of color sign the hallways—
 BEAT FORGE!
 We wait . . .
 enthusiasm crescendos . . .
 Half time—fragments of events create a montage of impressions.
 "Bear-y Forge"—a landslide victory.
 A beauty crowned amidst smiles—and tears.
 Homecoming—
 musical sounds painted in tones of "Ambor." The Nifty Fifties (remember when?!)
 friendship,
 glances,
 . . . love.

Soccer

Hands dangle-
useless.
Feet hurl out
in all directions.
A bounce
off the head, instead of the hand.
A slow starting season
finally blossoms
into a budding
victory.

Cross Country

The "sole" sport . . .
running through drizzles and clumpy, gushy, mud, wind smarting
streaming tears, whirling clumps of grass and autumn leaves.
Keep on truckin' . . .
through it all-
egged on to victory in the L.E.L. by a few hardy spectators.

remembering scenes that beckon tears and smiles
 for souvenirs:

the Hiram happening, a crippled-camera crisis, the pickles and potato chips shared 5th period, a yellow calendar with assignments THREATS(!), a Beatles vs. Bowie battle (full volume), the ghosts of deadlines past,

present,

and future,

the ruined rolls-rescheduling syndrome, and popcorn and paper chains on the tinsel tree.

remembering "actors" that gave outstanding performances:

the schedulers who realized the potency of the word "mandatory" (a staff afflicted with dedication)

the photogs who sacrificed SO MUCH time, contributed talent, and displayed "occasional concern" for the assistant editor(!)

and the Editors who are U-niquely U-clidian.
 "merci,"

Kathi Balisterri
 Assistant Editor

Dependency was a lot more than just a theme to this year-book staff. We of the editorial staff were all dependent on Mr. Dickinson and the business staff for selling ads and I thank them for their efforts which made our book possible.

I believe the staff depended on me for a little bit of organization, but not half as much as I counted on them to get the job done. All of the editors have learned this year how dependency brings us closer together. Though many times we had mix-ups or misunderstandings, friendships have grown out of them. So what can I say to my editors except thanks so much for your dedication and friendship.

Also, I must thank Mr. Bert Coburn of Inter-Collegiate Press for his guidance in seeing that we met our deadlines, and all the fine gentlemen of Raimor Studios for their advice to our photographers, their understanding, and hard work. And of course, we depended on our advisor, Mr. Robert Hall, for his signature and concerned encouragement.

Last, but by no means least, we depended on the entire student body and faculty of Euclid High School for providing the subject of our book. So here you have the 1973 EUCLIDIAN. If it brings back as many good or bad memories to you as it has to me, it has served its purpose well.

Sincerely,

Pat Lawrence

Up and outward . . .
inside and out . . .
over and done . . .
treasure the past
and carry it in your heart, but live in the future and hold it as your dream.
May God follow
in your footsteps and not trip on your faults.
